ISSUE #263 DECEMBER 2007

"WHERE A GOOD CRIME CAN BE HAD BY ALL"

AUTHOR OF THE MONTH MARTHA GRIMES

When an old friend pulls Richard Jury into the investigation of the murder of a wealthy bachelor, Jury is not sure what's more perplexing: the circumstances of the fellow's death, the conflicted stories of the man's past, or the motivations of the lead detective - the beautiful and forbidding Lu Aguilar. What Jury is sure of is that he's in over his head, both with the inscrutable and challenging Aguilar and the false leads surrounding the once charismatic Billy Maples, last seen in a club named Dust.

A web of clues draws Jury to the trendy Clerkenwell galleries, clubs and hotels, to the dark stories behind the Maples family, and to the Sussex town of Rye, where Billy had temporarily taken up the tenancy of Lamb House, the charming home where Henry James composed his three masterworks and a place with secrets of its own. With Melrose Plant investigating Lamb House, Aguilar interceding, and the appearance of Maples' young nephew, Scotland Yard's finest - and now infamous - will need every bit of his intelligence and quiet charm to crack the case. The 21st in the series.
